We hope you and your staff would be able to answer the attached questions so that your views are accurately reflected in our reporting. In order for us to take your answers into account in our forthcoming report, we would appreciate a written response by June 24, 2011.

Questions for General Oban

1. What reforms has the AFP implemented to hold accountable military personnel and members of paramilitary forces who have perpetrated extrajudicial killings and enforced disappearances since June 30, 2011?
2. What is the standard AFP procedure for investigating a killing in which military personnel are implicated, be it an encounter killing, killing on a military reservation, or otherwise?
3. Has the inspector general, the provost marshal, or any other investigating body within the AFP investigated the broader issue of extrajudicial killings and enforced disappearances in the last five years? If so, please provide details of the investigation and findings.
4. Has the inspector general, the provost marshal, or any other investigating body within the AFP investigated members of the military for involvement in an alleged extrajudicial killing or enforced disappearance in the last five years? If so, on how many occasions? Please provide details of each investigation and findings.
5. How many AFP members in the last 10 years have been disciplined or prosecuted for their involvement in extrajudicial killings or abductions in the Philippines? Please provide information on specific cases, including the role played by the AFP members.
6. How many Citizen Armed Force Geographical Unit (CAFGU) or Special CAFGU members in the last ten years have been disciplined or prosecuted for their involvement in extrajudicial killings or abductions in the Philippines? Please provide information on specific cases, including the role played by the paramilitary members.
7. Has disciplinary action been taken against any senior member of the AFP in the last 10 years on the basis of command responsibility? Please provide information on specific cases.
8. How many members of the AFP or paramilitary forces in the last 10 years have been disciplined or prosecuted for harassing or intimidating witnesses or relatives of extrajudicial killing or “disappearance” victims?
9. How many members of the AFP or paramilitary forces in the last 10 years have been disciplined or prosecuted for failing to comply with investigations by police, the National Bureau of Investigation, the Commission on Human Rights, or any other investigating body?

10. What steps has the AFP taken to cooperate or assist police in serving arrest warrants on members of the AFP, paramilitary forces, or military “assets” or rebel returnees working with the military? In particular, what steps has the military taken to assist the police in serving arrest warrants against Dandy Quilanan, a CAFGU member, and Junel Librado, a former member of the NPA working as a guide for the military, who are accused of killing Rene Quirante on September 30, 2010, in Barangay Trinidad, Guihulngan, Negros Oriental?
11. In cases in which a particular military battalion or division is implicated, what steps does the AFP take to identify which members of the AFP, paramilitary forces, or military “assets” or rebel returnees were involved? Please provide specific examples. For instance, what steps has the AFP taken to identify the six unidentified “John Does” of the Philippine Army implicated in the killing of Rene Quirante on September 30, 2010, in Barangay Trinidad, Guihulngan, Negros Oriental?
12. Please provide information regarding the status of internal AFP investigations into the following cases of alleged extrajudicial killings and “disappearances.” For each case, please advise whether a spot report and/or special report was prepared, whether the inspector general, the provost marshal, or any investigator independent of the battalion in the area has been asked to investigate and provide copies of each of these reports. For investigations that have been suspended or discontinued, kindly provide the reasons for the suspension or discontinuation.
